Me. Mills' ADDAMS.

Senator Roger Q. Mills, of Texas, who spoke before the literary societies last blank made a most favorable impression. He discussed the power of millionaires in shaping of legislation, and showed that that power was growing to a cangerous proportion of our liberties. His tribute to the women of the South, and especially to those of old Virginia, was a most eloquent one, and worthy of the great man who gave utterance to it. He thought we were drifting away from the principles of good government and that we should not lose sight of the teaching of liberty and good government as he principles of good government and hat we should not lose sight of the teachas of liberty and good government as inderstood by our forefathers.

He paid President Cleveland the commitment of being an able man, and one she had at heart the best interests of his mustry and party, and he believed would work out the salvation of the Government. This won a round of appliance. His well-known tariff views were brieffmentioned, and he deplored the condition the country was in, but believed hat the end of financial depression and mustrial inactivity that now exists so generally was in sight. He referred to the attile for the rights of the people that has been waged in the national halls of origination for so long a period, and exterest the highest appreciation of the act that with the repeal of the Federal scation laws made possible by the brave isnt made for the repeal law by Hon, larry Tucker, that the victory for State's whis had been won in legislation where had failed to reach success on the battefield. He believed that by the passage wise legislation now pending that the ountry would be rectored to a prosperity bat it has not enjoyed for many years.

you show the people the right, educate them up to it, that in due time right will win the fight.

He closed with an admonition to the young men to be leaders, and not followers, of any one or any one idea, except that of the great teachings of Jefferson; to steer clear of politics, and always fear God and do right as dictated to them by their consciences. An eloquent tribute to Lee and Jackson, the mothers, wives and sisters of Virginia, closed his able address.

RANDOLPH. MACON COLLEGE.

Address of Mr. Leroy smith Before the lumni-Sutheri Medai.

ASHLAND, VA., June 20.-Special .--At 11:30 o'clock to-day the old college bell could be heard ringing, not to call the weary student to his daily recitathe weary student to his daily recita-tion, but to remind him and the peo-ple of the town and the visitors that the closing exercises would soon begin. At intervals throughout the day the sound of music could be heard, not the tin horn and rattling pan of the "callthump," but thrilling, inspiring music from the band that had been secured for the ocband that had been secured for the oc-casion. In groups upon the college cam-pus may be seen old friends grasping hands and conversing about the many changes that have taken place since long intervals of separation.

THE ORATOR OF THE DAY.

The oration of the part.

The exercises opened, Rev. B. F. Lipscomb, president of the society of alumni, in the chair, with a prayer offered by Rev. J. W. Duffy. The orator of the day, Mr. Leroy L. Smith, an A. M. of the college, was introduced, and proceeded with the address before the alumni. He began by asserting in strong terms his loyalty and gratitude to the college. It had been twenty years since he left Randolph-Macon, and many changes had taken place in that time.

Of the evils to be abolished, the speaker said:

or said:
There is perhaps not a greater evil than the increasing tendency to paternalism in our Government. Only a few openly afhere to this doctrine, but there are many who are practical supporters. The increase of officers supported by the Government is too rapid. We should consume that the contract of the contract minify the Government and magnify the minify the Government and magnify the citizen.

But there has been great progress along many other lines, of which the most prominent are contained in these two ideas—universal education and the brotherhood of man. Here the speaker aliuded in warm terms to the higher education that woman now receives, and as a side issue hunorously referred to the extreme independence of woman in the new custom of their riding bicycles. He had never thought that such an immodest custom would ever come further south than the Capitol. He must, however, submit. however, submit.

THE BUTHERLIN MEDAL.

At the close of the speech President W. W. Smith announced that the contest for the Sutherlin medal for oratory was next in order. Mr. Andrew Siedd was the first speaker, his subject: being. "The Aristocracy of Merit." Touching allusion was made by the speaker to Robert E. Lee, and the tear that made its appearance in the eye of strong men present and the prolonged appause that followed the speech, gave evidence of the effect produced. Mr. G. W. Jones spoke on insidious influences, as illustrated by "The Greek Horse," his subject, Mr. C. F. Eason had as his subject, "The Evolution of Civil Liberty," tracing the history of liberty to the present day, Mr. R. W. Buchanan's subject was "William Gladstone." He pronounced a beautiful tribute to "the great old man." pronounced a beautiful tribute to "the great old man."

At the morning meeting of the board of trustees, two more were added to their number, namely, Colonel John A. Robinson and George B. Finch, chosen to fill the places of members who had not complied with rules of attendance. It is possible that, having graduated a lady, as was announced in yesterday's Times, the trustees will discuss the question of co-education of sexes. The professor of Latin has not been chosen, since the matter requires a great deal of cellberation. About thirty applicants for the position are reported, but only a few will receive careful consideration, among whom are several highly recommended graduates of Johns Hopkins University. MORE TRUSTERS ELECTED e meeting of the Society of Alum-At the meeting of the Society of Alumni in the afternoon the following officers were elected: J. W. Duffey, president; H. P. Hamili, first vice-president; Arthur K. Davis, second vice-president; R. B. Smithers, secretary; W. A. Shepard, treasurer. The speaker elected to address the alumni next year is Hon. J. B. McCabe, with W. C. Vaden as an alternate. Other matters of business were considered.

Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, of California, has arrived, and addresses the literary societies to-morrow morning. The conferring of degrees and prizes, of which the announcement of the successful orator of the contest of to-day is an interthe Washington Society at night, addressed by Dr. R. N. Sledd, the orators from the society being Messrs. C. F. Eason and H. R. Hern, are the remaining commencement exercises.

THE FRANKLIN SOUTHT, The celebration of the Franklin Literary was the order of the evening. Mr. F. G. H. Murbill, who spoke on "Henry Grady," and Mr. W. M. Blanchard, whose subject was "The Successful Aichemist," were the representatives of the society, and did full credit to themselves and their society. Rev. W. J. Young, the president elect, was prevented from being present, and Rev. C. E. Scott, of the Eaptist Church, took his place. His subject was "Moral Architecture," and was admirably handled. After this, medals, which had been won during the year, were presented, Mr. Andrew Sedd, the debator's medal; Mr. Hilbert, the medal for improvement in debate; Mr. Braiford Kilby, the declaimer's medal. Then followed the social feature of the evening.

An extra train was run to Richmond after the exercises, and another will be run to-morrow night.

Meeting at the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College.

BLACKSBURG, VA., June 20,-Special.-The annual meeting of the board of visit-ora of the Virginia Agricultural and Meora of the Virginia Agricultural and Me-chanical College was held yesterday morn-ing at $.30 o'clock in Dr. McBryde's office. Dr. J. M. McBryde, the president of the college submitted a detailed report as to the condition of the institution, which contained a number of recommendations and gave ample proof of the thorough and efficient manner in which the writer administers the affairs of the college.

INCREASE OF NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

Of the present number of students 155 have possitively decided to return next session, and twenty others have signified that such is their intention. The new term will therefore begin with at least 155 old students, and a total number of about 275. The new dormitory will be completed by October 1st, and by putting two students into one room, sufficient accommodations for 275 will then be secured. The new structure will cost about $15.50, and with an additional expense of $1.00 for heating apparatus only about $50 will be left over for the furnishing of the building. INCREASE OF NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

The construction of the new commencement hall will cost $11,250, leaving only about $750 from its appropriation for heat-ing apparatus and the furnishing of the

Ing apparatus and the furnishing of the building.

The report recommends that the adjacent Effinger property, a little over two acres, be purchased at a cost of $1,260. It also recommends to comply with a request from the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society to send an exhibit to the Exposition to be held at Richmond next fall. It further recommends that Mr. J. P. Harvey, the instructor of the band, be permanently employed at a salary of $150 a year.

The creamery building has not yet been equipped, but when this is done, at an expense of about $300, the milk of about $20 cows can be daily turned into butter and cheese.

The fineme of the college from all restricts ouring the present year is estimated at $33,402, and the expenses at $17,500.

The income of the station at $18,600, and its expenses at $17,500.

The report recommends that in order to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Professor John E. Christian, on October 18th last, an adjunct professor of mathematics and civil engineering be elected for a term of two years, at the expiration of which he might be promoted to regular professorship. In view of the fact that Professor Robert C. Price is about to go to Germany for a year on a leave of absence, it is recommended that his work be divided and that though a second attempt is likely to prove a more serious affair.

A., has been detailed to succeed Lieutenant John A. Harman, as commandant of the Cadet Corps at the expiration of his detail, September 1st.

The report of Dr. McBryde was received and all recommendations contained therein were agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Graves the board proceeded with the election of a professor of mathematics and civil engineering. There were thirty-six applications in all, and after a thorough consideration of their merits, Mr. Samuel D. Barton was unanimously elected. This selection is considered to be a very fortunate one.

Upon the recommendation of the executive committee the contract for the erection of $12,350 or $350 more, as originally appropriated, was approved.

The three members of the executive committee. Messrs. Vawter, Brown, and Graves were re-elected for another year.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

When the time for the meeting of the Alumni Association arrived the board took a recess to listen to the address which Mr. R. N. Mussrave, of Portsmouth, delivered to the alumni. The association subsequently held its annual business meeting, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Mr. Conway, of Danville, president; J. A. Clarke, of Bedford, first vice-president; W. A. Morrill, of Blacksburg, second vice-president; R. E. Wright, of Blacksburg, secretary and treasurer.

Judge T. Wilson, of Norfolk, was elected orator for the next annual meeting, and Mr. S. H. Graves, of Roanoke, alternate.

A resolution was adopted, requesting the Governor to appoint an alumni member of the board of visitors, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. T. B. Fitzgerald, of Danville.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the alumni had their annual banquet.

THE SHAM DATTLE.

THE SHAM BATTLE.

About three thousand spectators from this section of the State gathered in the spacious grounds of the college to witness the great sham battle. All the movements were very smooth, and their prompt execution was greatly admired by the deeply interested spectators.

The result of the competitive company drill of Tuesday afternoon has been made known, and the gold medal, which during the present year has been in possession of Company B, has been given to Company C, Captain Lovenstein commanding, as the best-drilled company.

Judge Staples, of Richmond: Judge Pierce, of Christiansburg, and Hon. John E, Massey, who acted as judges at the entertainment gruen by the Maury Literary Society on Tuesday evening, have awarded the medals as follows: George T, Surface, of Montgomery county, as the best ofator, whose subject was "God in Nature:" John C, Dabney, of Pittsylvania county, as the best debater, who advocated the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the Electoral College Should be Abolished:" Lawrence Priddy, of Charlotte county, as the one who showed the best improvement in deciaiming.

The commencement exercises proper were held this morning, and the programme of the past four days was brought to a befitting close. The students formed on the paradle grounds at 19:30 o'clock this morning and marched from there to Commencement Hall. A big crowd was awaiting them there, eager to witness the last official act of the session. After the usual preliminary exercises some announcements regarding the session just closed were made, and the following essays were then read:

It was rumored yesterday that West would stop playing entirely in the near future and devote his time exclusively to the management of the club.

by the Legislators will play in these games.

The club has made every effort possible to secure some first-class pitchers, but from the recent games it looks as if their efforts have in this direction met with little success. When I inquired last made as to the reason why better material had not been secured, I was told that it is impossible to obtain the players desired, and that if the Richmond "cranks" who were so loud in their denunciation of the management for not having obtained pitchers would be kind enough to furnish information as to where pitchers could be secured they would be signed.

It is said that the Southern Lengue will disband at an early date, and the Richmonds hope to get one or two of the star pitchers of this league, and are already in correspondence with them.

The club is negotiating with a first-class catcher, and expects to have him here the first of next week.

LAST MEETING OF THE GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS COMMITTEE.

Still After Those Free Telephones -Gas in the Treasury Vauit Thanks All Around_Court News.

The Council Committee on Grounds and Buildings met at 5 o'clock yesterday at the City Hall. Present: R. C. Taylor, chairman, and Messrs. Turpin, Mountastle, Epps and Carter.

This being the last meeting of the committee previous to the organization of the new City Council, those matters of business not needing immediate attention were left for the action of the new committee.

were left for the action of the new committee.

Mr. Turpin, as chairman of a committee to look into certain matters connected with Sebree's warehouse, recommended that $15 be allowed M. T. Smith for erecting a wall for protection in case of fire, and it was so ordered.

Several requisitions from city officers for improvements in their quarters were referred to the City Engineer.

Mr. Phys stated that Judge Witt requested that a 'phone be placed in the clerk's office of the Hustings Court.

Colonel Cutshaw stated that it would require twenty-five phones, including the house 'phones connecting rooms in the building, to properly equip the City Hall.

Mr. Turpin said he had been in communication with the telephone people, and that the phones he thought would be furnished free of cherge to the city by the telephone company.

Mr. Carter moved that the City Engineer be instructed to notify the company of the number wanted, and that they were expected free of charge. Mr. John E. Epps said he was opposed to accepting a single 'phone free, and asked to be placed on record against the motion. It was carried without his vote.

Colonel Cutshaw stated that he had an estimate of the cost of some additions to the cavalry armory, amounting to about $1,000. The estimate was referred to the committee of the new incoming Council.

A communication was read from Mr. Craig, treasurer of the city, stating that on last Monday he found the large vault in his office full of gas, and, being fearful that the funds of the city might be dostroyed by an explosion and resultant fire, he had moved them to a smaller vault. He asked that the matter he remedied.

Colonel Cutshaw stated that on examination it was found that the gas came from another vault through a ventilater. He was instructed to make such precautionary rules as would prevent its recurrence.

Mr. Turpin called attention to the faulty accounted of the several court-rooms, and tionary rules as would prevent its re-currence.

Mr. Turpin called attention to the faulty accounties of the several court-rooms, and said it was intolerable. He moved that the City Engineer be instructed to ex-amine into the matter with a view of remedying the fault.

Colonel Cutshaw stated that he was al-ready studying the problem, and the mo-tion was withdrawn.

Mr. Turpin moved that a vote of thanks be tendered the chalfman, the City En-ton was withdrawn.

Mr. Turpin moved that a vote of thanks be tendered the chairman, the City Engineer and the clerk for their cflicient services, and, putting the motion, it was heartly carried.

Mr. Taylor, who for the past two years has been chairman of the committee, and who will take the higher seat of Mayor July 1st, returned thanks for the compliment and the aid the members of the committee had given him during that time.

Colonel Cutshaw returned thanks in the name of himself and Clerk Jacob, and ventured the hope that the same harmony would prevail with the incoming committee that had always existed in the retiring body.

The committee then a .. arned sine die.

NEW YORK, June 20.—If the bulls on stocks looked for any improvement in business because of the action of the bank presidents, they were woefully disappointed, for there were times to-day when the market approached stagnation, and as for prices, the general run of the usually active issues did not vary as much as a point. At the opening the feeling, if anything, was a little more bearish, the engagement of $2,250,000 gold for export to Europe and the likelihood of shipments reaching $6,000,000 for the week exerting an unfavorable influence. The liquidation in the bankrupt stocks also co...nued, and this helped the oears. So far as the gold shipments are concerned, it is announced that the metal withdrawn from the sub-Treasury to-day will be made good by the banks. American Sugar was most prominent in the early dealings, falling from 98% to 90%. The selling was partially due to rumors that the discriminating duty of 1-10 per cent., as recommended by the Finance Committee, would be wiped out later on. The vote in the Senate to-day on sugar matters, however, does not bear this out. Whisky was weak, declining 14,60 2314, Chleago Gas receded 1 to 75% on the delay in declaring the dividend, which was expected to-day. Industrials were weaker, especially for the bankrupt stock, Erie selling down to 12, Northern Pacific preferred 13%. In the afternoon the market was somewhat steady, but changes outside of Manhattan were slight. This stock jumped 114% to 118,2116%. The rise was due to a decision by Judge lagraham permitting the construction of a third track on Ninth avenue. Chleago rose to 731%, Lake Shore rose to 13%, and Northern Pacific preferred to 14%, in the active stocks, Gregon Railway and Navigation broke 2 to 10, Central Pacific and Lake Shore which gained is to make the stocks of the day show losses of is to in perferred to 14%, in the active stocks. CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—Yesterday's decline in wheat prices in this market did not seem to affect foreign markets, and the failure of Liverpool to respond to that decline was perhaps the all-important argument in favor of higher prices here to-day. The opening was buoyant, and the first hour's trading was of a very exciting character. The market received additional visor from reports of damaged crops in spring wheat region. The Government's weekly weather and crop bulletin report small gains permanently injured by the late drought, while private dispatches fully confirmed the statement, and in many instances added color to the report. The cartivity after the first hour suffered some of its vivacity to wheat. The activity after the first hour suffered some abatement, but the strength was lasting, and the close, although at some concession from the outside, was with a full measure of firmness. July wheat opened at 59%c. to 50%c., sold between 60%c, and 50%c., closing at 60c., a net gain of %c. for the day. Cash wheat was quotably le. per bushel higher than yesterday.

Corn obtained its strength from wheat and oats. And the influence of the two was calculated to help corn. The cash demand was also good, and therefore exerted a beneficial effect on the futures. July opened at 41%cathyloc., sold between 42%c. and 41%cathyloc.

July opened at 41% railing, sold between 42%c, and 41%c, closing at 42%c, a net gain of 160. Cash corn was 121%c, per bushel ligher.

The oats market furnished the sensation of the floor, June at one time being quoted 3%c, higher than yesterday's close and July 3c, higher than the last figures of that day. Sample out were 12 20%c.

and July 3c. higher than the inst figures of that day. Sample oats were up 325c. from yesterday, a larger advance than ever known before, outside of a manipulated market. The distant deliveries were higher, in sympathy with the near options, but the advance was not as great. A practical illustration of the incorrectness of the assertion by supporters of the anti-option bill that the short seller depresses prices was furnished by the action of that gentleman to-day. He pushed values higher so quickly that it was with difficulty that he could keep the pace. June closed 3½c. higher. September showed a gain of the contractions. There was very little vices.

Provisions—There was very little vi-tality to either the trade or prices of product to-day. An excess of 5,000 hogs over the estimated rumber in the run at the yards and a decline in value for the animal caused a weak start. Near the close puckers were good sellers and prices eased off, closing 17%, under yesterday for July pork, 5c. for July lard, and 5c. for July ribs. There was a moderately good cash demand. Opening.
